

Pre-Employment Screening Services

From Vero Screening

The majority of fraud is committed by employees and costs the UK economy £20 billion each year. Make sure you hire the right people by using pre-employment screening.

66% of those who committed fraud, concealed unspent criminal convictions in their job application.*

Your Special Offer

As an Allianz customer, you have access to the following services:

- a FREE ten minute health check over the phone to assess your current recruitment process. A diagnostic report will be provided, including benchmarking, highlighting potential deficiencies and recommendations for improvement.
- a discount of 75% on the one-off license fee for unlimited online access to pre-employment screening solutions.

Product Range

We've partnered with Vero Screening, one of the leading independent UK providers of background screening solutions. Its core services are pre-employment screening, public record intelligence, criminal record checks and right to work checks.

Pre-employment checks are used to confirm a candidate's identity, qualifications, professional experience and indicators of financial standing.

Pre-employment screening checks focus on identifying discrepancies and anomalies, including undisclosed bankruptcy, adverse employment references, falsification of qualifications and unexplained gaps in activity.
