Today’s construction companies face an ever increasing range of risks. The need for expert advice and protection is greater than ever. By drawing on our unrivalled construction experience and insight, we can deliver a wide range of risk-related services, tailored to the needs of construction companies.

As part of our long-term commitment to a greater industry focus, we’ve created three New Business Construction Trading Teams, located in our Manchester, Birmingham and London offices. Existing construction business will continue to be managed within our branch network.

Our dedicated New Business Construction Underwriters have comprehensive industry knowledge and technical expertise across Property, Liability, Engineering and Speciality lines, providing a one-stop shop for your customers’ cover requirements.

Our new teams can identify, understand and evaluate all the risks your construction customers face. With specialists across underwriting, site management, plant and machinery inspection and claims, we can tailor the best insurance solution for each of your customers – helping you to protect their assets and safeguard their businesses.

We will provide your customers with a dedicated insurance and risk management solution, built around individual exposures.
