Dear <Title>/<First Name> <Surname> ,

We're planning some changes to our business

Our records show you currently have (or previously had in the last 24 months) one or more insurance policies with Liverpool Victoria Insurance Company Limited. We're writing to let you know about some changes to our business structure.

If you have a policy, these changes don't affect your cover, how we support you, or the service we continue to provide as LV=.

If you no longer have a policy, you're receiving this letter because you still have the potential to make a claim in the future. We're not collecting any payments.

We plan to transfer the insurance business of Liverpool Victoria Insurance Company Limited, including your policy, to Allianz Insurance plc. These are both companies in the Allianz UK group. Before we can do this, we need to follow a legal process that also requires approval from the High Court of Justice of England and Wales (the "Court"). A similar legal process requiring approval from the Royal Court of Jersey will be followed in respect of business carried on in or from within Jersey. If you would like more information, please contact us on the details at the end of this letter.

This letter explains more about the proposed transfer, the legal process involved, where to find more information, and how to contact us. Please refer to the "What you need to know" section below. If you don't have any questions or concerns, you don't need to take any further action.

What the transfer means for you

You may receive more than one copy of this letter if you have more than one policy with Allianz UK group.

If you currently hold a policy with Liverpool Victoria Insurance Company Limited: The transfer will, if approved, include the transfer of your policy to Allianz Insurance plc. We'll continue to use the LV= brand.

If you held a policy with Liverpool Victoria Insurance Company Limited in the last 24 months (but no longer do): You have the potential to make a claim related to that policy in the future. Allianz Insurance plc will be legally responsible for and will manage that claim following the proposed transfer.

It's important you let anyone else with an interest in this policy know about the proposed transfer. This might include another named driver, a policyholder living at the same address or a personal representative.

Why have I received this letter?

You may receive more than one copy of this letter if you have more than one policy with Allianz UK group. As you hold a policy, the transfer will, if approved, include the transfer of your policy to Allianz Insurance plc. It's important you let anyone else with an interest in your policy know about the proposed transfer.

What's happening?

The transfer is subject to a prescribed legal process involving the Court. The proposed transfer will be implemented under Part VII of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the "Scheme") and is expected to take effect on 1 January 2027, subject to approval of the Court. If the transfer is approved, your policy will transfer to Allianz Insurance plc on 1 January 2027.

We are required by law to adhere to a strict process that includes several key steps including:

- appointing an Independent Expert to prepare a report on the proposed transfer which will include an assessment of the impact on policyholders and other interested parties (a summary of which is included in section 6 of the Transfer Guide);
- seeking approval for the proposed transfer from the Court;
- providing you with information regarding the proposed transfer and your right to object to it; and
- consulting with our UK regulators, the Prudential Regulation Authority ("PRA") and the Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA").

What you need to know

Please read this important update and the enclosed Transfer Guide which summarises the proposed transfer, explains what it means for you, and includes answers to frequently asked questions.

The dedicated webpage www.allianz.co.uk/transfer has detailed information about the proposed transfer, including copies of the complete Scheme Document and a summary of the report from the Independent Expert. We'll keep this webpage updated with everything you need to know.

In summary:

- Policy information – If you're an existing customer there'll be no change to your policy information. Your policy number, policy conditions and contact details will stay the same. You don't need to do anything. However, Allianz Insurance plc will become responsible for your policy.
- Premium payments – If you're an existing customer and you have an automatic card payment set up there won't be a bank reference change. If you pay by Direct Debit, you may notice a reference change on your bank statement after the transfer. This update will happen automatically, so there's no need to contact us with your bank details. Any premium payments will be to ALLIANZ LV INS. If you no longer have a policy, we will not be collecting payments.
- Claims – If you currently have an open claim, it will continue to be handled in the same way and won't be affected by the proposed transfer. You'll still be able to contact us about your claim as you do now, and you'll receive the same high level of care you do today. However, Allianz Insurance plc will become responsible for your claim. If you need to make a claim in the future, you can do so by using the current contact details. Any future claims payments will be from Allianz Insurance plc.

- Complaints – If you have an open complaint, it won't be affected by the proposed transfer, but Allianz Insurance plc will be responsible for it. If you wish to submit a new complaint, or have questions about a current complaint, you can do so by using the usual contact details.

If you're no longer a customer, if you make a claim or complaint related to that policy in the future, Allianz Insurance plc will manage that claim or complaint following the proposed transfer.

Your right to object

If you think you might be adversely affected by the proposed transfer, you (or someone you represent) have the right to object. While you have the right to object up to the day of the Court hearing, it would be helpful if you could let us know by 25 September 2026.

You can do this by:

- writing to us at: Allianz Transfer, PO Box 282, Sheffield HD8 1GD
- emailing us at: transfer@allianz.co.uk
- calling our dedicated helpline on 0330 678 5017 between 9am and 5pm (UK time) on Monday to Friday (excluding bank holidays) or +44 330 678 5017 from outside the UK (charges will apply)
- presenting your views in person, or by legal representative, to the Court at the hearing scheduled for 2 October 2026 (at your own cost).

Next steps

The next step is for us to ask the Court to formally approve the proposed transfer. The Court will consider approving the proposed transfer at a hearing due to take place on 2 October 2026 at The Rolls Building, 7 Rolls Buildings, Fetter Lane, London, EC4A 1NL.

The Court must approve the proposed transfer before your policy can legally be transferred to Allianz Insurance plc, and the Court will consider any objections received before doing so. Any objection will also be provided to the Independent Expert and the PRA and FCA. Please see above and refer to section 4 of the Transfer Guide for details on how to object to the Scheme.

Our timeline

If the date of the Court hearing changes, we'll place a notice showing the revised date of the hearing on the webpage. We'll also notify anyone who has raised an objection or told us they plan to attend the Court hearing. If the Court approves the proposed transfer, we expect it will take effect on 1 January 2027. The webpage www.allianz.co.uk/transfer will be kept updated.

What should I do now?

I've read the guide and have no more questions	I have some questions about the transfer
Keep this letter and the Transfer Guide. You don't need to take any action unless you're unsure about the proposed transfer or think you could be adversely affected and want to object.
